

Homework Consultation Response 2016

At Egton School we recognise that this is an area which will always invoke differing opinions and responses.

However in our 2016 parent consultation the following opinions were in the majority:

- there are many demands on both children's and parent's time
- homework should be relevant, enjoyable and not overly intensive
- it should be predominantly topic, reading, spelling and maths
- parents would prefer homework to be returned by Friday
- there should be a clear homework plan
- that parents should help children with their homework
- that any task should not be any longer than 30 minutes

We received valuable feedback with a wide range of views which we have taken into account when reviewing our homework policy.

Thank you.
